Here is an opportunity to perform a familiar piece of music that is superb for practicing foundational string skills. And just as important, beginning and advanced students alike can learn to play with authentic and challenging Baroque style in this carefully edited arrangement. A satisfying centerpiece for any concert!

Please note: Our band and orchestra music is now being collated by an automatic high-speed system. The enclosed parts are now sorted by page count, rather than score order.

PROGRAM NOTES

The twelve "Grand Concertos," Opus 6, of George Frederick Handel (1685–1759) are widely considered as pillars of Baroque orchestral music. Known primarily as a composer of operas, the concertos established Handel's reputation as a master of orchestral music. Remarkably, Handel completed the set of concertos in a little over four weeks during the summer of 1739, composing a different, complete concerto about every three days. The Larghetto is an arrangement of the third movement from the last Concerto Grosso, Opus 6, Number 12 in B minor. The great British music scholar Basil Lam once said that this famous Handel melody is "one of those tunes that speaks to every degree and level of musical experience."

NOTES TO THE CONDUCTOR

Efforts have been made in this arrangement to provide bowings and articulations that will allow even young students an opportunity to play with authentic Baroque style. Playing recordings of the original version of the Larghetto is recommended so students can become familiar with Baroque string techniques. To capture Baroque style, the following general principles are suggested and indicated in the music:

1. Instruct students to hold their bows at the balance point of the bow, above the winding/grip, throughout the piece.
2. Emphasis should be placed on the down beat of the measure/phrase and the emphasis should be created using bow length and speed, not pressure (mm. 5–8, and similarly throughout the piece).
3. Individual quarter notes should be separated, but not staccato (m. 1 in all parts).
4. Individual, melodic eighth note patterns should be legato (m. 2, violin 1, violin 2, viola).
5. Repeated eighth note patterns should be brushed off-the-string, or played lightly on the string (mm. 17–28, violin 1).

The piece begins with a four-measure introduction that will be heard again at the end of the piece. In the first half of the theme (mm. 5–16, 1st violins), the steady quarter note figures (viola, cello, bass) should be clear and rhythmic, but not predominant, when the 1st violins play a variation on the melody (mm. 17–28, repeated eighth notes), and in subsequent 1st violin variations, their line should be present but should not overwhelm the main melody.

Detailed description: This block contains the musical score for measures 49 through 52. It features five staves: Violins I and II, Viola (Violin III), Cello, and String Bass, along with a grand staff for Piano Accompaniment. The key signature is one sharp (F#). Measures 49 and 50 show a melodic line in the Violins I and II parts, with a '4' above the staff indicating a four-measure rest. The Viola and Cello parts play a steady eighth-note accompaniment. The String Bass part provides a harmonic foundation with a mix of eighth and quarter notes. The Piano Accompaniment consists of block chords in both hands. A large red watermark 'Preview Only' is overlaid diagonally across the score.
