Sixteen Going On Seventeen

from The Sound of Music

The Sound of Music opened on Broadway in 1959; the famous film version starring Julie Andrews was made in 1961. In Salzburg, Austria, a young woman studying to become a nun is sent to be governess to the seven children of a widowed naval commander. The children, initially hostile and mischievous, eventually come to love her when she introduces them to the joys of singing. In this song, the Captain's eldest daughter Leisl sings of her feelings on being 'Sixteen, going on seventeen'.

Summer Nights

from Grease

Grease premiered in Chicago in 1971 as 'a play with music', but was then reworked as a musical and appeared on Broadway in 1972. However, it became most popular through the 1978 film starring Olivia Newton-John and John Travolta. Set in the summer of 1959, it tells the story of Danny Zuko, member of boy gang the T-Birds, and Sandy, an innocent girl from Australia. This opening song takes place on the first day of a new school year as Danny tells his friends about his summer romance.
